When you purchase AIM products and services, we also store transactional information such as your purchase history.
- Surveys and Promotions. We may request information from you through voluntary surveys, contests, or sweepstakes. The information requested typically includes your name, telephone number, email, and mailing address. This may include your browser, the URL that referred you to AIM Applications, or AIM email or electronic newsletters that you interact with, and the time of day, among other information. We may use this Usage Information for a variety of purposes, including enhancing or improving AIM Applications. We also collect your IP address or other unique identifier ("Device Identifier") of your computer or other device used to access AIM Applications (any, a "Device"). A Device Identifier is a number that is automatically assigned to the device used to access AIM Applications, and our computers identify your device by its Device Identifier. A few of the tracking technologies that may be used on our Site to collect Usage Information for business and commercial purposes include, without limitation, the following:

- Cookies. A cookie is a data file placed on a Device when it is used to visit the Site. Cookies may be used to remember you and your preferences, to track your visits to our web pages, or to collect information for record keeping and make it easier to navigate the Site. Cookies are stored on users' hard drives. We use both "session ID cookies" and "persistent cookies." Session ID cookies are used to store information while a user is logged into the Site and they expire when the user closes their browser. Persistent cookies are used to make tasks like logging into the Site easier for returning users by remembering a user's login information. Persistent cookies stay on a user's hard drive from one session to the next. You can choose to have your computer warn you each time a persistent or session cookie is being sent, or you can choose to turn off such cookies through your browser settings. Each browser is a little different, so look at your browser Help menu to learn the correct way to modify your cookies.

We use cookies to enable functions on our websites, personalize content and ads, improve our website functionalities, provide social media features, and analyze our website traffic. In so doing, we may share Usage Information with third party social media, advertising, and analytics organizations that may combine it with other information that you've provided to them or that they've collected from your use of their services.

Cookies we use fall into the following categories:

- Essential Cookies.

These cookies help make our websites usable by enabling basic functions like page navigation and access to secure areas of the websites. The websites cannot function properly without these cookies. We may use third party service providers for essential cookies.

- Advertising Cookies.

These allow us to know whether or not you've seen an advertisement or a type of advertisement, and how long it is since you've seen it. We also use cookies for the purposes of targeted advertising. We may use cookies set by a third party so we can more accurately target advertising to you. For example, we may show an advertisement about woodworking tools if you have recently visited the tool section of our woodworking Site.

- Social Networking Cookies.

These are used to enable you to share pages and content that you find interesting on our websites through third party social networking and other websites. These cookies may also be used for third party advertising purposes.

■ Third Party Analytics Cookies.

These cookies help us track site metrics and user behavior behind the scenes to improve and optimize our Sites. This data includes information about what pages were visited, what links were clicked, what terms were searched for, and they provide information on the success of our marketing campaigns. This data is used to help determine how our websites can be customized to provide a better user experience. These cookies are not intended to collect information that AIM can use to identify you, and the usage activity is meant to remain anonymous and is only used to improve how our websites work.

Most web browsers allow some control of most cookies through the browser settings. To find out more about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set, visit: www.aboutcookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org.

- Web Beacons. Small graphic images or other web programming code called web beacons (also known as "1×1 GIFs" or "clear GIFs") may be included in our web pages and messages. Web beacons may be invisible to you, but any electronic image or other web programming code inserted into a web page or e-mail can act as a web beacon. Web beacons or similar technologies may be used for a number of purposes, including, without limitation, to count visitors to our Sites, monitor how users navigate the Sites, count how many e-mails that were sent were actually opened, or count how many particular articles or links were actually viewed
- Embedded Script. An embedded script is programming code that is designed to collect real-time information about your interactions with AIM Applications, such as the links you click on. The code is temporarily downloaded onto your Device from our web server or a third-party service provider, is active only while you are connected to the Sites, and is deactivated or deleted thereafter.
- Other Information We Collect From Third Parties. We may acquire information from other trusted sources to update or supplement the information you provided or that we collected automatically, such as to validate or update your address or other demographic and lifestyle information. We use this additional information to help us maintain the accuracy of information we collect, to target our communications so that we can inform you of products, services, programs, and offers that may be of interest, and for internal business analysis or other business purposes.
- Third Party Analytics Technologies. As stated above, we use third party analytics and other tools to better understand who is using AIM Applications, how people are using AIM Applications, how to improve the effectiveness of AIM Applications, and to help us serve targeted content. Those third-party analytic companies may use cookies, pixel tags, or other technologies to collect and store information such as time of visit, pages visited, time spent on each page of the AIM Applications, Device Identifiers, type of operating system and browser used, and other websites you may have visited.

These companies, and the advertisers themselves, may use information about your visits on our Sites and other websites in order to provide advertisements about goods and services of interest to you. While serving advertisements to our Sites, these third-party ad servers or ad networks use technology to send, directly to your Device, the advertisements and links that appear on the Sites. They automatically receive your Device Identifier when this happens. They may also use tracking technologies, such as cookies, to measure the effectiveness of their advertisements and to personalize the advertising content.

Thus, some of the advertisements you see on our websites are provided by third party organizations. ADDITIONAL IMPORTANT DISCLOSURES AND PRACTICES

- Nevada Residents. Nevada's privacy law defines personally identifiable information ("PII") as a natural person's first name or first initial and last name in combination with one or more of the following data elements, when the name and data elements are not encrypted: (1) Social Security Number; (2) Driver's license number or identification card number; or (3) Account number, credit card number, debit card number, in combination with any required security code, access code, or password that would permit access to that person's financial account. We do not collect or share such PII information of Nevada residents.
- Children's Privacy. The AIM Applications are for a general-purpose audience and are not directed or intended for children under 13 years of age. We do not knowingly collect Personal Information from individuals under 13 years of age. If you are under 13 years of age, you should not register or provide Personal Information on AIM Applications. If we later obtain actual knowledge that a user is under 13 years of age, we will take steps to remove that user's Personal Information from our systems.
- Do Not Track. Our Sites do not currently take any action when they receive a Do Not Track request. Do Not Track is a privacy preference that you can set in your web browser to indicate that you do not want certain information about your webpage visits collected across websites when you have not interacted with that service on the page. - Changes to the Privacy Policy. We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time. The most recent version of the Privacy Policy will always be posted on our Sites, with the "Effective Date" posted at the top of the Policy. We may revise and update this Privacy Policy if our practices change, as technology changes, or as we add new AIM Applications or Communications Services, or change existing ones. If we make any material changes to our Privacy Policy or how we handle your Personal Information, we will notify you by email and on our Sites. In addition, you will know because the Effective Date of the Privacy Policy will change.

DISPUTES

- Arbitration. Any dispute, controversy, or claim between us arising out of or relating in any way to this Privacy Policy, and/or any of AIM's offerings, products, services, websites, or software will be resolved by binding arbitration, rather than in court, except that you may assert claims in small claims court if your claims qualify. The Federal Arbitration Act and federal arbitration law shall apply to this arbitration agreement.

There is no judge or jury in arbitration, and court review of an arbitration award is limited. However, an arbitrator can award the same damages and relief as a court (including injunctive and declaratory relief or statutory damages).

Before beginning an arbitration proceeding, you must send an individualized letter identifying yourself, your legal claims, the requested relief and requesting arbitration to

Legal Department, Active Interest Media Holdco, Inc., 2143 Grand Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa 50312

. Except as otherwise stated herein, the arbitration will be conducted by the American Arbitration Association (AAA) under its rules, including the AAA's Supplementary Procedures for Consumer-Related Disputes. You also agree to delegate the issue of arbitrability to an arbitrator. The AAA's rules are available at www.adr.org or by calling +1 \(800\) 778-7879. Payment of all filing, administration, and arbitrator fees will be governed by the AAA's rules, except the filing fees will be paid by you. If you are a prevailing party, you may seek reimbursement of your fees and costs. However, AIM may seek its attorney's fees and costs if the arbitration finds your claims to be frivolous. There will be only one arbitrator, not a panel. You may choose to have the arbitration conducted by telephone, based on written submissions, or in person in the county where you live or at another mutually agreed location.

- Class Action Waiver. We each agree that any dispute resolution proceedings or lawsuits, whether in arbitration or in a court of law, will be conducted only on an individual basis and not in a class, consolidated, or representative action. Therefore, you waive all rights to bring claims on behalf of a class of persons; however, you may still bring an individual claim for public injunctive relief and in small claims court. Nothing in this provision, however, should operate to prevent the parties from settling claims on a class-wide basis.
- Jury Trial and Small Claims Court. If for any reason a claim proceeds in court rather than in arbitration, we each waive any right to a jury trial. We also both agree that you or we may bring suit in any court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin infringement or other misuse of intellectual property rights, including with respect to temporary restraining orders.
- No Rights of Third Parties. This Privacy Policy does not create rights enforceable by third parties or require disclosure of any Personal Information relating to users of the website.
- Links to Other Sites and Communities. To the extent hyperlinks may be used to access external or third-party sites and communities, please note that these external or third-party sites and communities are not controlled by us and, therefore, are not subject to this Privacy Policy. We recommend that you check the privacy policies of each such site and community to determine how your Personal Information will be utilized by their proprietors.

- Security. We implement safeguards to help protect against loss, misuse, and alteration of information under our control. However, despite our efforts, no data transmission over the Internet, wireless transmission, or electronic storage of information can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. Please note that we cannot guarantee the security of any information you transmit to us.
